Hancock band program in doubt

Athletic director now supervises band; band camp canceled

BY JOHN WATERMAN
Staff Writer

Barely two weeks after a long-standing controversy surrounding the renewal of 29 coaching positions, the Hancock County School District has placed its band program under the athletic department.

This means the band director, Anthony McWright, must now report to the district's athletic director.

This decision has upset many parents and students, who believe that McWright is being unfairly treated.

Band camp was cancelled the day the decision was made, and students were sent home.

McWright could not be reached for comment on Friday.

Superintendent David Kopf speculated that Hancock High Principal Donny Gholston made the change in order to streamline the administrative process.

"I'm of the opinion, based on what I understand, that the principal makes the assignments. He chose to delegate some of his paperwork to go to individu-

'I'm a Star' honor to be awarded this Wednesday

THE SEA COAST ECHO
The new recipient of the Hancock County Tourism Development Bureau's "I'm a Star" award will be honored Wednesday, August 3 at 10:30 a.m.

The Tourism Bureau publicly recognizes individual citizens of Hancock County who quietly or loudly promote the area and tourism. This award goes to a person who has demonstrated the true meaning of "Hospitality and Promotion" to our visitors and who has worked tirelessly to promote the Coleman Avenue Coalition, in Waveland.

The top rating received through a visitor profile study conducted recently, reported that the friendliness of the people was at the top of the list for positive experiences by tourists who visit Hancock County, and Kathy Pinn is definitely one of the friendliest and most active.

She has been at the forefront of organizing the Waveland, Coleman Avenue Coalition. Kathy is the owner of one of the "cutest" shops on the avenue, "That Cute Little Shoppe," where an official "I'm a Star" sign will be on display, which will certainly attract more business and hospitality opportunities.

Supers discussing budget requests with dept. heads

BY BENNIE SHALLBETTER
Staff Writer

Budget talks are continuing between county supervisors and county department heads. Just about no one is asking for less money, but some departments have not asked to increase their budgets. Neither Gulf Coast Mental Health or the Chamber of Commerce has asked for increases of county allotments.

This past week the Election Commission appeared before the board to present a possible plan for replacing voting machines county wide. The Help America Vote Act will require all voting districts to conform to strict standards, making it necessary for most to replace outdated machines.

A state sponsored program to help Mississippi counties accomplish this task could provide some 75 new voting machines to Hancock County at no cost, if the county chooses to go with the program. To qualify, county officials would have to agree to take machines from a supplier chosen by the state.

The county currently has about 150 voting machines. Additional machines would be paid for out of county coffers. It could cost between $200,000 and $300,000 to implement the new system, said comptroller Sissy Gonzales.

Pearl River Community College had requested an additional $200,000 in county funding, bringing this year's request to $884,000. Additional funds would be used to hire staff and build up the degree program at the new Hancock County branch in Waveland. Currently degrees are not offered from that campus. Funds would also go to open a library and a student resource center at that location. About 330 Hancock county students were enrolled at Pearl River College for the spring semester.

An increase in the number of zoning appeals, property cleanup actions, and other actions, plus the paperwork connected with those actions, have greatly increased the workload and costs for running the Supervisors office in the courthouse, said board secretary Terry Guenard. She asked for an increase in salaries for all three employees and funding for supplies, bringing this year's request up from last year by about $50,000, bringing this year's total to $670,298.

The Sheriff's Department and jail has requested an additional $422,138, bringing their 2005/2006 budget total to $5,181,469. A rise in insurance costs is responsible for $175,000 of that total, with workman's comp claims accounting for an additional $18,000. Requests for additional overtime payment to both office employees and deputies account for another $20,000, with overtime requests for jail employees adding an additional $14,000. An additional $50,000 will be needed to supply inmates with needed prescription drugs and medications. Requested salary increases account for $43,000 and increased gasoline prices account for a needed addition of $15,000.

Constables have requested new uniforms and bullet proof vests. They have also asked to be added to the state retirement system.

The county is discussing turning over the management of the Hancock County Civic Center to the Chamber of Commerce.

PRCC fish fry set for August 5

On August 5, from 5 to 8 p.m., the PRCC Alumni Association Hancock Chapter will serve fish plates at the Hancock County Civic Center. Take out plates will be available. Tickets are on sale for $6 from any alumni member. The officers for 2005-2006 are Frank Ladner, President; J. Larry Ladner, Vice President; and Freda Cameron, Secretary-Treasurer.

The purpose of the fundraiser is to provide scholarships to PRCC for local Hancock County students. The Alumni Board voted to add $1,200 in scholarship funding to be given here at our local PRCC campus to Hancock County students. We would encourage all local businesses to contribute to this worthy program.

Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District Drug Screening Information policies

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Beginning with the 2005-06 school year, a drug screening program will be instituted as a proactive approach to a drug-free school. The purpose of the program is four-fold:

- to provide for the health and safety of students;
- to offer students a credible means to resist peer pressure as it relates to the use of alcohol, performance enhancing and/or illegal drugs;
- to provide a resource for support and assistance to any student who may be using illegal drugs and/or alcohol; and
- to preserve the educational environment.

Students Subject to Drug Testing

Any student enrolled in grades 7-12 participating in an extra-curricular activity, co-curricular activity, or driving a vehicle to and from school will be subject to testing. Any parent or guardian may request that their child be included in the random drug testing program even if their child does not participate in an activity or drive a vehicle to and from school.

Random Testing Pool

Students to be tested will be selected randomly by the drug testing company. Each student will be assigned a number that will be placed in a pool for a drawing. A student will only be assigned one number for the pool. The privacy of the student will be protected.

Prescription Drugs

The proper use of medication prescribed by a physician is not prohibited; however, the district prohibits the misuse of prescribed (over the counter) medications.

Testing Cost

All tests will be paid for by the district unless stated otherwise.

Parent Notification

The parent or guardian will be informed in writing of a negative result. The parent or guardian will be informed in writing (and by phone, if possible) of a positive result. All information is confidential and will be released to authorized personnel on a need-to-know basis.

Consequences For Positive Results

• For a first positive test result, the parent or guardian is notified and the student is excluded from all activities until a parent meeting is held with the school administration. The student may resume participation in an activity or privilege, if within 5 days of the meeting, the student shows proof of participation in an approved intervention program.

• For a second positive test result, the parent or guardian is notified and the student is excluded from all activities for a period 20 days beginning the day of the parent meeting with the school administration. The student must show proof of participation in an approved intervention program before resuming participation in an activity or privilege.

• For a third positive test result, the parent or guardian is notified and the student is excluded from participation in all activities for a period of one calendar year beginning the day of the parent meeting with the school administration. The student must show proof of participation in an approved intervention program before resuming participation in an activity or privilege.

• For subsequent positive test results following the third, the parent or guardian is notified and the student is excluded from participation in all activities for a period of one calendar year beginning the day of the parent meeting with the school administration.

The student must show proof of participation in an approved intervention program before resuming participation in an activity or privilege.

Leadership Hancock Co.

In case you are interested in submitting an application to be considered as a member of the Hancock County Chamber of Commerce's 2005-06 Leadership Class, Monday, August 1, is the last day to submit your application.

Participants must be residents of Hancock County or employed in Hancock County.

Application forms are available at the chamber's office, 412 Highway 90, Suite 6, Bay St. Louis.

The new Leadership Class will be the fourth for Hancock County, and according to David Holman, chairman, is now going to be an annual chamber event.

Best of luck to all applicants.

You may want to mark your calendars on Friday, August 5, 5 to 8 p.m., to attend the Hancock County PRCC 5th Annual Cookout at the Hancock County Civic Center.

Frank Ladner, PRCC Hancock Alumni Association president, and his crew have been busy preparing the annual cookout which proceeds goes towards scholarships for Hancock County students.

All PRCC Alumni, as well as the general public are invited to come out and enjoy a great meal, for a donation of $6 each.

There will also be door prizes, and yes, takeouts will be available too.

For further information, or tickets, contact Frank Ladner at 467-7130; Larry Ladner, 255-3393; Jimmy Ladner, Tax Assessor, 467-4425, or Tim Keller, Chancery Clerk, 467-5404.

As many of you know, the BRAC, (Base Realignment and Closure) Commission was in the area recently to hear appeals from concerned folks about several military facilities facing closure, or cut in services.

As many of you know, our coastal area depends very much on our military facilities.

The Department of Defense (DoD) is recommending to the BRAC Commission that the Department of Navy Human Resources Center-Southeast (HRSC-SE) at Stennis in Hancock County and another center in Philadelphia, PA, be consolidated as one in Philadelphia.

HRSC-SE at Stennis is one of six Navy-wide centers in the U.S. with 150 employees. The Stennis center serves 29,000 Navy and Marine Civilian employees in 10 Southeastern States, Puerto Rico and Cuba.

This would be a blow to our area to lose such a facility.

Interstate system rivals Rome's roads

You often hear folks comparing America to the Roman Empire, sometimes for the good and at other times for the bad. Well, in America we certainly don't want to replicate "Imperial Rome," but there is one often overlooked comparison that is quite relevant. Both ancient Rome and modern America developed with the construction of roadways. In fact, part of the reason Rome eventually collapsed was that it stopped building and maintaining its roads. As the Senate takes up the long-awaited highway bill, we ought to consider what happened to Rome's roads or risk facing the same fate.

From the Senate

By U.S. Sen. Trent Lott

In America today, 32 percent of our roads are in mediocre condition. Thirty-percent of our bridges are structurally deficient or obsolete. Our "modern" interstate system is now 50 years old. It's clear that unless we start reinvesting in our transportation system, we will be neglecting one of the primary reasons for our nation's success. More to the point, we will lose thousands of jobs.

The U.S. Department of Transportation estimates that for every $1 billion in federal highway spending, 47,500 jobs are created. That's quite a staggering number. But were this estimate off by half or even a quarter, it's still a huge impact which cannot be ignored. In America as in ancient Rome our roads are the key to trade, rapid movement of people and goods, and national security. Let's not forget that President Eisenhower commissioned the interstate system during the Cold War, partly as a mechanism for national defense. Thankfully we haven't had to use our interstate to stop an all-out invasion, but as we saw after September 11, 2001, our highways are critical to protecting our economy in an emergency.

The highway bill now before Congress needs to be passed within the month of May so that we can take full advantage of the peak summer construction season. It's an extension of a previous six-year highway bill called the Transportation Equity Act for the 21st Century (TEA-21). This bill continues the process of reinvesting and refurbish-

Noise ordinance would make it illegal to operate lawn mower after 8 p.m.

The purpose of this letter to the editor, is to alert area residents of Hancock County to the new Board of Supervisors' proposed ordinance "Regulating the Sound Level of Vehicular Audio Systems and Other Sound Emissions within Hancock County." The correct title should be "Big Brother's Control All Sounds Uttered by Humans, Power Tools and Animals in all of Hancock County." I fear that area residents are not reading this proposed ordinance because the title is so misleading. Not only does it apply to car "boom boxes," but also provides for a $500 fine AND 1 day in jail for the following "offenses" under Section 7 of this ordinance:

- Using a lawnmower after 8 p.m.
- Using a weedwacker after 8 p.m.
- Using a lawn edger after 8 p.m.
- Using a leaf blower after 8 p.m.
- Working on your own car or house using any type of power tool after 8 p.m.

For many of us who have a sizeable commute to our jobs in the surrounding areas, we rarely get home to

Hancock County before 7 p.m. So even now, when it is still daylight until 8:30 p.m. we will only have an hour window of opportunity to do our lawns and yard work in the evenings. Not to mention the fact that it is not under 95 degrees this time of year until almost 7 p.m. For any one so unfortunate as to have car trouble on their way home from a job and need to fix their vehicle in order to be able to get to work the next day, they too will have a one hour window of opportunity to do any needed repairs. Better that they should get fired and lose their job then use a power tool after 8 p.m.!

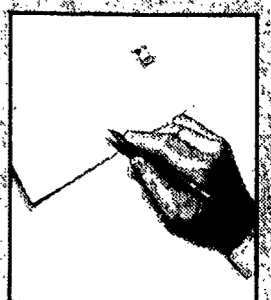

Additionally, under Section 1, entitled "Motor Vehicles" no boat may be used that can be heard for more than 50' from its location of operation. That precludes any and all fisherman from using Cowan Bayou on Highway 90, which backs up to Oak Harbor and Belle Isle subdivisions. There is no outboard motor on the market today that cannot be heard for 50' on open water! Better to just close the entire

Competitive bidding could save the taxpayer money

In times when School Boards and Superintendents of Education cry "Full Funding" and blame the legislature for cutting school programs, it's refreshing to see the Biloxi schools exercise good stewardship over their tax dollars. Though legally the Biloxi Schools aren't required to bid their custodial contract, they've shown they want to promote public trust in their dealings. The Hancock County Superintendent of Education and School Board should take notice.

Since at least 1995, the Hancock County School have not bid their custodial. The base amount of the contract for the School District is valued at $960,000, with additions. The State Attorney General's office has even encouraged the Hancock Superintendent and School Board to consider competitive bidding to ensure the public receives the best possible price. They have so far ignored the Attorney General's encouragement. How can the Hancock Superintendent and school board know they are receiving the best possible price without competiing our nation's highways. The Senate Commerce Committee on which I serve has been responsible for the bill's safety provisions which are a critical part of this legislation.

Lott -- roads

When my father was killed in a crash on a narrow, two-lane, hilly road back in 1969, folks, including him, rarely used seat belts. If he had, he might have lived. Today cars are safer, and many more people buckle up. In 2004, traffic fatalities on our nation's roads were slightly down. That may sound like good news, but it isn't when you consider that 18,000 or 56 percent of last year's fatalities were not wearing seat belts. Consider, too, that 40 percent of crashes were alcohol-related. That means we still have a lot of work to do getting people to do two simple things: putting on a seat belt and putting down the bottle when driving.

The Senate Commerce Committee has taken a new approach to this old problem. Instead of telling states that the federal government will take away federal dollars for low seat belt statistics, we're going to offer incentive grants to increase seat belt usage. After all, when the federal government threatens states like Mississippi with mandates enforced by economic sanctions, that action likely won't receive a high rate of compliance. Folks by nature don't like being threatened, and threats don't induce a positive response. But by partnering with states, rather than penalizing them, we will increase seat belt usage and decrease alcohol-related accidents.

Our highway bill also extends important boating safety programs, truck and bus safety standards, hazardous materials transport protections and even contains new provisions to protect folks from unscrupulous moving scams. It is a big bill that will position our highway system policy for the next five years. It's an overdue bill that should be passed immediately because the day we stop investing in better and safer roads, is the day we have just one more thing in common with Rome.

And, Rome fell.

Quotes -- Leadership

As many of you know, years ago Partners of Stennis was formed, and Chuck Benvenuti, Bay St. Louis CPA and John Haral, Attorney, representing Partners for Stennis presented a compelling case for the consolidation at Stennis not Philadelphia.

I have known Chuck Benvenuti for many years, and he has given much of his valuable time to working for the betterment of our county. I understand he put in several days in preparation for the presentation to BRAC. There were others too who contributed.

In the announcement by BRAC, Keesler Medical Center is scheduled to reduce services for our retired Military.

There is a very large contingent of military that use the services at Keesler, which is one of the top medical facilities in Mississippi and probably in the Air Force.

U.S. Congressman Gene Taylor of Bay St. Louis staffer Brian Martin, discovered a major calculation mistake by BRAC to determine the value of Keesler's facilities.

So hopefully with the information provided to the BRAC Commission, they will reconsider and leave Keesler's medical facilities as they are, in addition to consolidating the Navy

Human Resources at Stennis.

Congressman Taylor, Benvenuti and Martin need to really be complimented on the work they have done in the above matters, as well as several others.

Pam Truhett (left) of Education Services Foundation presents a $1,000 scholarship to Willow B. Nero, graduate of Mississippi School of Math and Science, who plans to attend the University of Mississippi.

Local high school students earn essay scholarships

Two high school students from Hancock County have been chosen as winners in the 2005 $50,000 ESF Essay Scholarship Competition sponsored by Education Services Foundation.

The applicants were required to be graduating from a Mississippi high school in 2005, have at least a 3.0 average, and be planning to attend college as a full-time student in the Fall of 2006. Judging was based on participants' essays on the topic, "Where I Would Take the President on a Tour of Mississippi."

Katherine Sullivan of Diamondhead, a graduate of Hancock High School, won a $1,000 scholarship in the competition, which drew 1,150 applicants.

Sullivan plans to attend The University of Mississippi.

In the essay, Sullivan suggested taking the President to various sites such as the battlefield at Vicksburg, the Stennis Space Center, the home of Elvis Presley, and the Nissan plant to "show him how the past has helped to shape the future of this great state."

Willow B. Nero of Bay St. Louis, a graduate of Mississippi School for Math and Science, won a $1,000 scholarship in the competition.

Nero plans to attend The University of Mississippi.

In the essay, Nero suggested taking the President on a boat-tipping adventure. Education Services Foundation (ESF) is Mississippi's nonprofit resource for free college planning, scholarships, low-cost student loans and student loan consolidation.

The biographies and essays of all the winners may be read on the ESF Web site at www.esfweb.com.

Clement R. Bontemps Post and Unit 139 of the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary installed their officers on Friday, July 22 at the Post Home in Bay St. Louis. The officers were elected at the June meeting. Commander Bill Taylor introduced the many guests from all over the state and thanked them for coming to help us celebrate.

Before the installation began Lou Wilkerson requested permission to approach the podium for a presentation. She introduced Jerry Lott the Potentate of the Joppa Temple Shriners and also Billy Case of the Joppa Temple. Mrs. Wilkerson presented them with a check for $635 for their transportation fund to take children to and from the Crippled Children's Hospital in Shreveport, LA, and the Burn Center in Galveston, TX. The money was raised when the members of the Auxiliary, Legion and SAL worked in the kitchen during the month of April.

He then turned to Daricek and congratulated him on his election to Commander of Post 139. He presented Daricek with his gavel and urged him to use it fairness and integrity. He also extended the congratulations of Department Commander Charles Scott and the Department of Mississippi and offered his assistance when needed.

als that are right beneath him (in this case, the athletic director). With any kind of extracurricular activity, it's common for the AD to be the contact for statewide athletic agencies."

When asked about the band camp's closure, Kopf said that he had not received a report from Gholston at this time.

"I'm not aware of the details. I've talked to parents and students, and reassured them. I'm confident that everything will be resolved."

Donna Hill, a Hancock High parent who has two children in the band, said she was very upset about these developments.

"They don't care about what's best for the children. The program has grown by leaps and bounds since he took over. If Mr. McWright leaves--and I understand completely why he would--I would consider withdrawing my children from the band program. It's ridiculous they way Hancock High handles things."

Peggy Ladner, school board member from district 4, said she did not have many details on the situation, but had also received phone calls from concerned parents. She added that McWright was a great teacher and a valuable resource, and did not want to see the district lose him.

"He is one of the best up and coming band directors, and probably in the top five band directors in the state," Ladner said. "I hope to God we can work this out."

Condo -- wastewater serves as county engineer.

Talks centered on a possible location for a wastewater treatment plant that the condo developers are proposing to privately build. Several locations are under review, but for now, planners will look at one 320 acre tract of land located south of Hwy. 90 just south of the Springwood Park subdivision and North of Viola Garcia and Dan Garcia Roads.

The tract, mostly wetlands, and in a largely uninhabited area, would serve as the location for the plant and as an overland or spray irrigation site for treated wastewater. Developers asked Geoffrey Clemens to begin work on a facilities plan for three possible plant capacities.

For 1,000 condominium units, needed treatment capacity would vary between 200,000 and 300,000 gallons per day; for 3,000 units needed treatment capacity would vary between 600,000 and 900,000 gallons per day; for 7,000 units needed capacity would be between 1.4 and 2.1 million gallons per day. Should development reach the anticipated 10,000 units, needed treatment capacity would rise to between two and three million gallons per day.

Currently neither water or sewer services exist in a new commercial resort district recently designated by the Hancock County Planning and Zoning Board west of Lakeshore Rd. and south of the railroad tracks.

Even so, within days of designating the district, county zoning commissioners gave their approval to ten high-rise condominium projects to go forward. The towers range from around 30 to more than 40 floors. County supervisors also gave their approval of the projects.

A group of local residents immediately filed suit to block the projects. A suit questioning zoning rights for the projects is scheduled to be heard on October 3 in Hancock County Circuit Court, said attorney for the residents, Rielly Morse.

With no available capacity at the county's only wastewater treatment facility, Southern Regional, it became obvious that a plan had to be set in motion. Several supervisors spoke out publicly to say they would not allow local funds to pay for services for the new project. County attorney Ronnie Artigues suggested that the county prepare a development agreement for use now and for future large scale development.

Juneau said that the goal was to find private funding for the project, but that he hesitated to make any promises until a deal was set. Suggestions are that the county take over the operation of the plant at a future date.

Ideally, debt service and operations would be covered by customer revenue, developers say they hope. Costs of operations at the Southern Regional plant last year came to about $1.2 million, with debt service adding another $1.3 million to yearly costs.

Currently no one holds the water service certificate in the area, but Graham said that Hancock Water and Sewer wanted to apply for the certificate. Their attorney J.P. Compretta is looking into the possibility, Graham said.

Developers are anxious to go forward, said Juneau. A letter from the group to county supervisors will be presented at tomorrow's board meeting at the county courthouse.

Caregiver -- on the run

Friday, "Twelve warrants have been issued for Leroy Percy Ladner, 35, Firetower Road, nine counts of unlawfully depriving of medical care of a vulnerable adult and three counts of endangerment of vulnerable adults."

In an attempt to arrest Ladner on Friday morning, Roan said, "We discovered a note on his door reporting he had tried to commit suicide and was taken to see a psychologist," Roan stated. It is believed the note was posted by a family member.

Roan said he is being assisted in the investigation by Supervisor Inspector Tom Godeaux of the VA's Inspector General's Office in New Orleans.

Also Hancock Medical Examiner Norma Stiglet, Hospital and others have been assisting in the investigation with in continuing.

Roan continued, "One of the veterans residing with Ladner died on July 11, there was then three vulnerable adults left residing with Ladner, two of which were vets. The next day the VA helped the two vets find new residences and the other adult (moved away) too."

Tina Cassell, VA Staff Assistant in Biloxi Friday afternoon said, "The Shiyou Community Residential Home had been certified, but it was de-certified on June 23."

Roan reported Mrs. Shiyou was the grandmother of Ladner.

"Cassell said, "Veterans discharged from the VA Hospital may still need some assisted living support. We have 25 homes in the area that are certified.

It is the vet's choice as to select the home they want to stay at. We just help them find a place to receive assisted living they may need. The veterans themselves pay for the services,"

Garber said, "The sheriff's department investigates any report of a vulnerable adult. It is very sad when you have a situation when veterans, or any one is treated as our investigation has thus far revealed."

"Since January, 2005, there have been five deaths at Ladner's Firetower residence," Roan reported.

Roan said, "During our search of the residence, which we had consent, we discovered large quantity of prescription drugs, some 150 to 200 bottles of them, some dating back to the year of 1999. Many were for former residents who died, or for others who moved elsewhere."

"The person who died on July 11 was a veteran. He fell and had an injury and was taken to the hospital on a Friday, treated and released with a prescription to be filled. The prescription was never filled and he died Sunday, two days later," Roan added.

Garber continued, "There should be more charges filed in this case as the investigation continues."

Garber said they will be looking at autopsy reports and whatever necessary in this case.

Garber is asking the general public's help, "We want Ladner, as he knew warrants for his arrest were forth coming. He is now fleeing justice."

Escapee

Sheriff Garber listed Pierce on his wanted list and it was published in the July 10, issue of The Sea Coast Echo.

Watson, who along with Investigator Andre Fizer, are investigating the escape, added, "Pierce and his wife, will both be extradited back to Hancock County. Levi Pierce's bond is set at $250,000, while is wife, Cynthia Wilson Pierce, who is alleged to assisted him in his escape, her bond has been set at $150,000."

When Levi Pierce walked away from a work detail on June 2, 2005, he was in jail on a probation violation, according to Hancock Investigators.

Artigues resigns at PRCC, takes SE La. baseball job

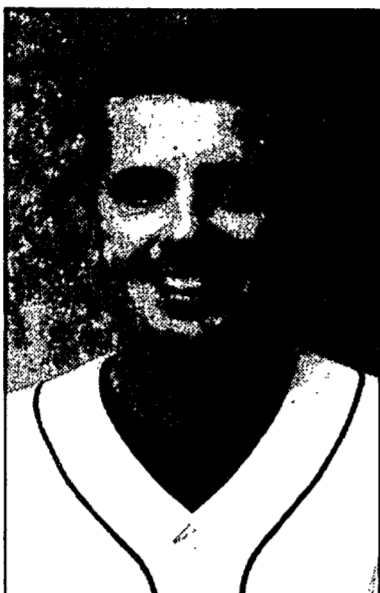

Wildcat mentor guided PRCC to 2002 World Series berth, '04 MACJC championship during 4-year tenure

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Pearl River Community College head baseball coach Jay Artigues has resigned his position at the school to accept the head coaching job at Southeastern Louisiana University in Hammond.

Artigues, 36, a PRCC graduate, was baseball coach at Pearl River for four years. His teams compiled a 168-48 overall record.

"Having an opportunity to play and coach at Pearl River was very special to me," said Artigues. "Leaving is tough for me and my family. My kids were raised on that campus. The toughest part about leaving is not just the program and the facilities, but it's the people I worked with for four years."

Jay Artigues

In his first season at PRCC, Artigues led the Wildcats to a school record 42 wins and a berth in the JUCO World Series in Millington, TN. PRCC finished as the South Division Conference Champions, Region XXIII Champions and Central District Champions with an overall record of 42-13.

Artigues was selected Region XXIII Coach of the Year and the Central District Coach of the Year in '02.

In 2003 the Wildcats finished 38-13 and advanced to the State and Regional playoffs for the second straight season. The 2003 team was nationally ranked throughout the season and was ranked as high as No. 1 in the country.

In 2004, the Wildcats finished 42-10, winning the school's first MACJC State Championship since 1939. The 2005 Wildcats finished the season 46-12.

"Coach Artigues took our baseball program to another level, both competitively and with our facilities," said PRCC President William Lewis. "We are certainly going to miss him and his family. He brought a level of excitement to Wildcat baseball. We wish him and his family well in their new position."

Meanwhile, added Dr. Lewis, "We plan to move as quickly as possible to name a replacement." The position must be announced within the institution for five days, according to board policy. "We feel like we have qualified potential candidates within the institution," he said.

Southeastern, nicknamed the Lions, is a Division I program and a member of the Southland Conference. Artigues replaces Dan Canevari, who recently resigned.

The Lions were 29-31 this past season.

"In order for me to leave Pearl River, it had to be a special place and Southeastern is that place," said Artigues.

"Southeastern offers me an opportunity to reach one of my goals professionally, and that is to coach on the Division I level. Plus, I know a lot of people there and I am familiar with the program."

Artigues came to PRCC from Bossier Parish (LA) Community College in Bossier City, LA, where he compiled a 109-57 record in three seasons, including a 46-15 record this spring. His last team there reached the regional finals and finished the season ranked No. 8 in the national polls.

Artigues prepped at St. Stanislaus High School in Bay St. Louis. He played two seasons at PRCC and went on to play at Belhaven College in Jackson, where he was a first-team All-Gulf Coast Athletic Conference selection as a second baseman.

He began his coaching career in 1992-93 as an assistant at Spring Hill College in Mobile, AL. From 1993-95, he was dean of students and head baseball coach at St. Louis Catholic High in Lake Charles, LA. He led St. Louis into the state playoffs both years, reaching the state quarterfinals in 1996.

He then served as athletic director and head baseball coach at St. Thomas Aquinas High School in Hammond, La., where he led the Falcons to the state playoffs for the first time ever. From there he spent the 1997-98 season as an assistant coach at the University of New Orleans before moving to Bossier City.

Gulf Coast Research Lab hits milestone in speckled trout production -- indoors

THE SEA COAST ECHO

When Gulf Coast Research Laboratory researchers brag about their catch of speckled trout, the numbers are in the thousands and the size under two inches.

The fish, known more formally as spotted seatrout and Cynoscion nebulosus, are also the first speckled trout ever raised on a production scale in an indoor aquaculture system. At 36 days old and about 1.5 inches, the fingerlings hit a milestone for the GCRL with their move from nursery to grow-out facilities.

Personnel at The University of Southern Mississippi lab moved the fish from round 264-gallon tanks in the nursery facility to roomier 12 x 50-foot raceways in a greenhouse at the GCRL on Tuesday, July 26.

The tiny speckled trout are part of a joint effort that the Mississippi Department of Marine Resources (DMR) and the GCRL launched in May 2004. Christened the Seatrout Population Enhancement Cooperative (SPEC), the project's purpose is to develop the how-to for rearing Mississippi spotted seatrout in captivity and to test the use of hatchery-produced fish for enhancing the natural population of the popular species.

Researchers are using the fish to test how GCRL's intensive aquaculture system -- raising marine species in tanks at high densities -- will work with speckled trout.

Taking advantage of the success GCRL has had in developing marine aquaculture techniques, the project is applying these methods in raising marine shrimp and red snapper.

Results are on target. Lab personnel hatched the current crop of seatrout young from eggs they secured from Texas Parks and Wildlife aquaculture operations. The GCRL team reared the fish through day 25 with 18,500 surviving, better than a 24-percent survival rate.

"That is good for a first try," said Reginald Blaylock, Ph.D., principal investigator of the project.

"If we were talking about cows, 24 percent survival would be a disaster," added Jeffrey M. Lotz, Ph.D., also an investigator on the project. "In the marine aquaculture industry, 25 to 30 percent survival is pretty standard."

Depending on the size of the fish, a speckled trout will produce 100,000 to 750,000 eggs at a time. "Typically, marine fish produce a lot of very small eggs with low survival," he said.

At day 25, researchers moved the fish into tanks at three different population densities. The count that accompanied the Tuesday, July 26, exercise will provide a snapshot of the effects of crowding on growth and survival of the species in captivity, another important piece of the puzzle in intensive indoor fish farming.

Lotz said the most difficult part of early larval rearing is to get the newly hatched fish to feed.

"This was a dry run to see that our facilities are, in fact, working right," Lotz said. "We are confident now that we can run our own larval fish in the system. We are still continuing to test the juvenile rearing systems." Blaylock said there is currently no ready supply for larvae from Mississippi seatrout, a challenge the team is working on as well. None of the Texas speckled trout will be released.

The project still faces a number of other challenges.

"The stage we are at now is to prevent cannibalism," Lotz said. "Spotted seatrout are aggressive predators. That is why they are such good game fish."

Tagging protocols are another line of experimentation. Researchers will periodically remove about 100 of the fish at a time to measure, weigh and tag them. The tagged fish will be held separately so researchers can track their growth and survival.

Angelos Apeitos, manager of the aquaculture component of the program, said the team will implant wire tags coded with letters and numbers to allow tracking of each fish's lineage, batch and size at tagging.

Once Mississippi spotted seatrout are produced, tagged and released, the information on the tags from recaptured fish will help assess how well the pilot stocking program is working.

"If the results show that the released fish have a positive effect on Mississippi seatrout populations, then the use of cultured seatrout becomes a tool for supporting the fishery," Blaylock said.

Be prepared before disaster strikes

THE SEA COAST ECHO
Hurricane Dennis kept Mississippi health and emergency officials on the edge of their seats as the Category 3 hurricane made landfall on Sunday, July 10, over Alabama and Florida's coast lines.

Mississippi officials kept a close eye on the direction of the hurricane, as they do with all storms that enter the Gulf Coast. Being prepared before the storm is the best medicine the Mississippi Department of Health offers to residents.

The Mississippi Department of Health (MDH) encourages Mississippians to think safety first always and be prepared for any emergency, especially during hurricane season.

"We must always be prepared," said State Health Officer Dr. Brian Amy. "The Mississippi Department of Health is here to promote and protect the health of all Mississippians, and that is why we encourage the public to plan ahead for any possible emergency situation."

One step in preparing is having a disaster supply kit in place before an emergency event arises.

"Disaster supply kits are very handy during any emergency," said MDH Director of Health Protection Jim Craig. "Making a disaster supply kit now will pay off in the future."

Kits should have items for food, water, clothing, first aid, and medications, bedding and important family documents. The items should be put in easy to carry containers or duffle bags and loose items in airtight plastic bags.

"The kits should be updated at least once a year," said Craig. "Mississippians should also keep the disaster supply kit handy at all times."

So, what to pack in a disaster supply kit?

Food and water. Your disaster supply kit should have a three-day supply of food and water. A normally active person needs to drink at least two quarts of water daily. Heat and intense activity can double this amount. Children, nursing mothers and those with special needs may require more.

According to Craig, purchased bottled water that has been sealed is best for storage. It meets the FDA guidelines for food, is not vulnerable to temperate changes as unsealed water and has no shelf life.

As for food, Mississippians should choose compact, lightweight foods that do not require refrigeration, cooking or preparation and foods that use little or no water. Hand washing with soap and water is extremely important during food preparation.

Clothing and bedding. Mississippians should also include at least one complete change of clothes and foot wear per person. Sturdy shoes, work boots, hats and gloves, blankets or sleeping bags, rain gear and extra prescription glasses/sunglasses are just a few items to add.

First Aid kit. Assemble a first aid kit containing items from your home and one for your car. Keep ready a three-day supply of each person's vital medications to include in the kit. Other medications to consider include anti-diarrhea medication, antacids, laxatives, antibiotic ointment, band-aids, aspirin or non-aspirin pain reliever, sunscreen, proper mosquito repellent, and cleaning agents such as soap and moistened towels.

Important family documents. Keep copies of records in a waterproof, portable container. Such important family documents to pack include wills, insurance policies, contracts and deeds, Social Security cards, Immunization records, passports, credit card account numbers, family records (birth, marriage, death certificates), and current photographs of family members.

Tools and emergency supplies. Tools and emergency supplies will come in handy if needed during an emergency.

Craig suggests that Mississippians make a list of emergency tools and supplies that include: cash or traveler's checks, coins, battery-operated radio, extra batteries, flashlight, compass, signal flare, paper, pencil, candles, toilet paper, soap, disinfectant, infant supplies (diapers, bottles and pacifiers) and personal hygiene items.

New monument to honor National Guard soldiers now serving in Iraq war

Plans are underway by the Poplarville Family Support Group of the Company B, 1-155th Infantry Battalion National Guard Unit to place a monument in front of the Pearl River County Courthouse. This monument will honor our soldiers who are now serving in Iraq. Company B consists of the soldiers from the Poplarville and Bay St. Louis National Guard units.

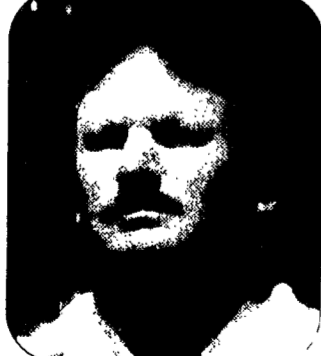

The monument will be almost seven feet tall (including the base), three feet wide, and made of Georgia Gray granite. The monument will be engraved with unit identification information, dates of service, and the names all of the unit members who served, including those unit members who may have been assigned to other units within the battalion for mobilization purposes.

"This is our chance to honor our soldiers," said Rickey Graham, director of the Family Support Group. "My son is on his second tour of duty there, and this is our chance to say thanks to our local heroes for a job well done. We expect them home anytime between November and January."

Any Hancock Bank will accept donations to the monument fund listed as "Mississippi Army National Guard, Company B, 1-155th Infantry Battalion Family Support Fund." For more information call Rickey Graham at 601-795-4763.

Monday is deadline to register for chamber's leadership class

The deadline to apply for Leadership Hancock County 2005/2006 class is Monday, August 1 at 5 p.m. Leadership Hancock County is a program that was introduced by the Hancock Chamber in 1996 to identify and prepare the community's existing and future leadership resources.

The 2004/2005 Class is the third class to graduate from the program.

Holman said the program is now re-established as an annual program of the Hancock Chamber. Participants must be residents of Hancock County or employed in Hancock County. To be considered for selection in the program, you must submit an application to the Hancock Chamber prior to the August 1st deadline. Application forms can be obtained through the Chamber Office at 412 Highway 90, Suite 6 in Bay St. Louis or on line at www.hancockchamber.org. Eight day long sessions run from September through May with the final graduation banquet in June.

"The goal of this program is to provide Hancock County with a network of current and emerging leaders who possess the skills, and the sense of commitment to improve our community," he said.

Participants commented about the many benefits they received that made the program worthwhile. Sessions included field trips focusing on government, economic development, education, smart growth, and quality living.

Informative sessions were led by local leaders such as: Hal Walters, who chaired the Economic Development Session; Ron Magee, chair of the Smart Growth Session; Dr. Sherry Ponder, chair of the Education Session; and Janet McQueen, who chaired the Quality of Life session. "As a group, we learned about what we want Hancock County to become for ourselves, our children and our children's children," said Holman. "We discussed many topics and through the process we identified specific changes, improvements and plans we have in mind to make Hancock County an even better place to live," he said.

The Leadership Board is seeking a balance of participants according to business and professional interest, geography, race and gender. Preference is given to candidates who, in addition to their potential for leadership, will contribute to the overall diversity and strength of the class and have available time and resources to commit to the program and future community service.

The annual fee to participate is $350 per person.

Momentum Mississippi law signed

Flanked by business, education, civic and political leaders at the state Capitol, Governor Haley Barbour today conducted a ceremonial signing of the Momentum Mississippi bill, the state's new plan for recruiting higher-paying, higher-skilled jobs in the fastest-growing sectors of the economy.

Among those joining in the occasion were Anthony Topazi, president of Mississippi Power and chairman of a coalition of leaders who built grassroots support for the Momentum Mississippi legislative initiative; Blake Wilson, president of the Mississippi Economic Council; and Jay Moon, president of the Mississippi Manufacturers Association. Momentum Mississippi, which revamps the state's economic development program, was approved by the Legislature in a Special Session called by Governor Barbour earlier this month.

"It is only fitting that we gather today to thank lawmakers, business and civic leaders and the education community for their overwhelming support of Momentum Mississippi," Governor Barbour said. "This initiative will help us make significant strides in successfully competing for higher-paying jobs in the fastest-growing sectors of the economy, particularly the high-tech field, and will also be a tremendous aid in encouraging existing businesses to stay in Mississippi and grow."

"I share your excitement that the State of Mississippi has ushered in this kind of economic development momentum," Governor Barbour said.

The Momentum Mississippi package reforms tax incentives, and funds state loan and grant programs. The legislation is designed to meet the needs of different businesses and industries in different regions of the state and help attract greater levels of investment and higher pay for Mississippi workers.

Architects receive Governor's award

Guild Hardy Architects PA (GHA) has been named the statewide small business winner of the 2004 Governor's Cup. The award, one of the highest honors presented by the Governor at the Mississippi Economic Development Council summer conference, recognizes private-sector businesses that have made a significant impact through community involvement, human resources and economic impact.

"We are honored to be awarded the statewide winner of the Governor's Cup," partner David Hardy said. "As a successful business in a growing area, it is our duty to give back to the community and our employees and help present Mississippi in the positive light with which it deserves."

Nominated by Mississippi Economic Council member Mississippi Gulf Coast Chamber of Commerce, Guild Hardy won their district to compete against four other district winners across the state for the distinction of statewide winner of the Governor's Cup. Guild Hardy received the prestigious Governor's Cup trophy and the Mississippi Gulf Coast Chamber of Commerce was awarded a $15,000 planning grant for nominating the statewide winner.

Guild Hardy Architects is currently involved in several high profile projects along the Gulf Coast including serving as the prime architect for the $50 million expansion and renovation of the Mississippi Coast Coliseum and Convention Center as well as architect of record for the Infinity Science Center at NASA Stennis Space Center and the Frank Gehry-designed Ohr-O'Keefe Museums of Art in Biloxi.

Along with participating, supporting and sponsoring many civic and philanthropic organizations, Guild Hardy Architects has provided pro bono design services for many notable projects such as master planning for the revitalization efforts of Main Street Biloxi and prepared design drawings for the installation of handicap accessible playground equipment for the Boys and Girls Club of Biloxi.

As an active supporter and promoter of environmentally friendly design, Guild Hardy Architects is a proud member of the U.S.

Green Building Council. GHA's newly built office in the Biloxi Commerce Park is expected to become one of only two buildings in the state of Mississippi to achieve a Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design (LEED) certification, the nationally accepted standard created by USGBC whereby "green" buildings are designed, constructed and certified.

Guild Hardy Architects, a full-service architecture and interior design firm, was founded in 1953 on the principle of providing their clients with the highest quality service in a timely manner.

Guild Hardy is the largest architecture firm in South Mississippi with over 30 employees including five partners and a total of eight licensed architects.

Unemployment rate rises in June

The state's unemployment rate continued to rise in June to 7.9 percent, the Mississippi Department of Employment Security (MDES) announced Wednesday.

The June unadjusted rate was up from the 7.3 percentage rate for May and a full percentage point higher than June 6.9 percent a year ago.

The number of employed Mississippians rose by 1,900 while the number of unemployed Mississippians rose by 8,700 bringing the total from 99,000 to 107,700.

The Nation's unadjusted rate of 5.2 percent rose by three percentage points, while the national adjusted rate of 5.0 percent was down by one tenth of a point from 5.1 percent.

Job gains were reported in Construction, Professional & Business

Services, and Leisure & Hospitality. Sectors reporting job losses were in Education & Health Services and Public Administration.

Twenty-eight counties reported unemployment rates equal to or less than Mississippi's 7.9 percentage rate. Desoto County continued to drop and hold the lowest rate at 4.0 percent. Rankin County continued to post the second lowest rate of 5.4 percent but was up from last month's rate of 5.0 percent.

Twenty out of the 82 counties posted double-digit unemployment rates, with Jefferson County reporting the highest rate of 16.7 percent up from last month's rate of 14.7 percent.

"If trends hold true, July should bring some relief from the rising joblessness," said Wayne Gasson, Chief of Labor Market Information.

Hillyer House nominated for national award

Hillyer House of Pass Christian has been selected as a nominee for the 2005 Top 100 Retailers of American Craft. NICHE magazine, the exclusive trade publication for retailers of fine American craft, will announce the 100 winners at a ceremony on Friday, August 5, during the Philadelphia Buyers Market of American Craft at the Pennsylvania Convention Center. This year's award program will also feature a special award for the nation's best arts nonprofit.

More than 18,000 professional craft artists throughout the U.S. and Canada nominated over 700 galleries, retail stores and museum shops. Criteria for selection included treating artists with courtesy and respect, paying on time, promoting and marketing American crafts, giving back time and energy to the craft community, mentoring emerging artists and maintaining an inventory that is at least 85% American craft. "I am honored to recognize this year's nominee," noted Wendy Rosen, publisher of NICHE magazine. "Their commitment to the American craft movement ensures the strength and growth of the arts and small businesses in communities throughout the country."

How to prepare for academic success

THE SEA COAST ECHO

As parents, we send our kids off to school hoping they'll come home with a report card full of A's. Every parent wants a successful student, but not every parent knows how to foster one. The key, in fact, lies in what parents do when their children are not in school. Parents can take several steps at home to ensure success in the classroom.

1. Create a "reading culture" at home. Reading is the foundation of all skills learned in school. A love of reading helps students with their vocabulary and problem-solving skills. Thus, parents must start early when encouraging their children to read.

First, be sure that your child sees that you value reading. Show your child that you read for pleasure and that reading is required for many day-to-day activities. Read recipes, directions, and newspapers aloud to your child while you are completing housework. When your child is of reading age, ask him to read these items to you.

The U.S. Department of Education recommends limiting television watching to less than two hours a day. Teach your children that reading can be just as much fun as the TV. Be sure that your house is filled with age-appropriate books and magazines, and encourage your child to read a book instead of turning on the television. The U.S. Dept. of Education has a guide to fun activities to encourage your child to read, found at www.ed.gov. The more your child reads during elementary school, the easier it will be to read more material in the higher grade levels.

2. Encourage your kids to be independent problem solvers. If parents are ready to solve the slightest problem for their children, from tying their shoes to cleaning up spilled juice, their kids will not be willing to complete projects at school. Instead of jumping in to help, praise your child when she solves a difficulty on her own. (However, be sure to only praise her if she succeeds at a difficult task; praising for every accomplishment won't encourage her to try new challenges.) If she can't figure out a math problem, don't show her the answer. Encourage her to try a different method of solving the equation.

Parents and caregivers can take steps at home to ensure they're fostering the right learning habits for success in school.

Teach your children how to break down big jobs into small steps. A student who can separate cleaning her room into laundry, bed making, and dusting will be adept at handling projects, such as book reports and science fair posters, in the classroom later on. Be sure to reward your child for starting a project early and organizing her time well by getting her a new book or treating her to ice cream. Acquiring this skill will hopefully prevent her from staying up all night to finish a paper in high school and college!

Finally, let your child take responsibility for her own mistakes. If her teacher tells you that your little angel is too talkative in class or doesn't turn in her homework on time, don't rush to her defense. Find out your daughter's side of the story, and if it is true, let her accept the consequences of her actions, which will help her act more responsibly in the future.

3. Make school a priority. Parents who want successful students need to show their kids that school is of utmost importance. The best way to convey this idea is to team up with your child's teacher. On the first day of school, find out your district's standards and course of study. Know what your child is expected to be able to do by the end of the year, and help her work towards those goals. E-mail your child's teacher periodically to find out how your child is performing, and let your child know that you and her teacher are keeping in touch.

Also, make sure that your budding student has a "homework space" in your house. It should be a writing surface in a quiet area of your home, away from distractions.

She needs pens and pencils, lined and graph paper, a calculator, and a dictionary. Her study space should be far away from the TV or phone, but close to you in case she needs help.

Let your child decorate this special space to her liking to make it her own. Then, decide with your child how much time she will allot to homework each night. Setting a regular schedule helps her develop a routine. Even if she doesn't have homework on a particular night, encourage her to use the time to read or complete extra practice problems.

The more she becomes accustomed to a certain amount of work each night, the easier she will find it to complete her homework.

Finally, be sure to focus on what your child is learning rather than the grade he is getting.

While grades can be a measure of success, it is more important that your child is acquiring good study habits and new skills. And focusing on the grade can tempt you to "help" too much with homework and projects.

Let your child know you are proud of the progress he's made, and the grades will follow. Soon, your child will become a star student!

Your child's vision is vital to their success!

Hancock school food information

THE SEA COAST ECHO

Each student in the Hancock County School District will be issued a 05-06 household application for free and reduced-priced meals the first day of school at each facility. It is only necessary for one application per household to be returned.

If you are not applying or submitting a duplicate application, please indicate "not applicable" on the form and return to your child's school. To apply for free and reduced price meals for students, complete the application using the instructions for your household size on the back of each application and return it to school. Once the application has been processed, a parent notification letter will be sent home indicating approval status and student lunch identification numbers for all students in the district that were listed on the application.

Advanced sales are available and recommended. All students, whether paid or reduced, may pay at serving time or payments may be made in advance by the week on Monday before school or at breakfast. Meals not utilized will be credited to meals for the next week. Cash refunds will be made only when a student withdraws from school. All requests for cash refunds must be addressed in writing to the School Food Supervisor located at the Superintendent of Education's Office. School food service cashiers accept checks only for the amount of food service purchases. Parents are not allowed to combine payments for breakfast and lunch with other school expenses. Checks should be preprinted with the writers name, complete mailing address, telephone number, driver's license and/or social security number. No post-date checks will be accepted. All returned checks will be assessed a twenty ($20) dollar handling fee. All students are issued a lunch identification number that is used as an identifier with the cashier. The computer assigns categories (free, reduced, and paid) to unique numbers. All meals to be claimed for reimbursement will be based on daily counts at the point of service. The count will be taken after the student has made all menu item selections and it is determined that the meal selected is reimbursable and recorded by category. For more, contact Sherry Turner, School Food Director, at (228) 255-0376.

Hwy 90THIS DEVOTIONAL & DIRECTORY IS MADE POSSIBLE BY THESE BUSINESSES WHO ALL OF US TO ATTEND WORSHIP SERVICESLiving Good Examples

It is always gratifying for parents when they see their children exhibiting good examples that they learned from them. For example, saying "thank you" without being prompted, or sharing, or simply being kind to others. Kindness, patience, honesty, and gentleness are some virtues that people should learn when they are young, and if so, will be carried with them throughout their lives. In most cases, a child is a direct reflection of their upbringing and the examples that they see around them. If a child is exposed to vulgar or rude language, it seems only natural to them that they can speak in the same manner. To a young person, if a parent demonstrates dishonesty or corruption, it can be perceived as an acceptable practice. To simply tell a child that something is wrong is not good enough if our actions reflect otherwise. Giving guidance and being involved with children and their daily activities will be beneficial to them as they grow. Also, developing a good religious atmosphere by attending church services, reading the Bible, and praying together will help reflect and reinforce the good examples that are important for building good character.

Now therefore, listen to me, my children, for blessed are those who keep my ways.

AREA DEVOTIONAL & DIRECTORY PAGES

How must we attack juvenile crime?

There it was, a fortress-like, quadrangular, rusty-red brick building within shouting distance of beautiful, 26-mile-wide Lake Pontchartrain. With no apparent way in, one wondered how to go about gaining lawful entry. At last, spotting a live person at one of the guard posts, we made a beeline for him to get information and instructions.

"Show me your driver's license or ID!" he shouted to the five of us. We gladly obliged, feeling that we were finally getting somewhere with the FBI. "And just remember," the guard said with a wink, "that not all who go in there come out!"

"Look at that! Beige on beige!" muttered Mary Fontenot, the leader of the band. "How do they expect anyone to read 'Federal Bureau of Investigation' recessed into concrete with that hard-to-see beige on beige? One would look for color contrast."

"Amen!" said the whole choir as we trudged on toward the somewhat forbidding structure. The FBI was granting us an audience as members of All Congregations Together (ACT) in order that we might get acquainted and lay down our initial plans for coordinating with the FBI, the NOPD, the DEA, the courts et al. in combating crime.

A combination of Dragnet's Sergeant Joe Friday and Hawaii Five-O's Steve McGarrett, the FBI special agent was the last to make his appearance in a meeting room with a table huge enough to dwarf even that in the White House cabinet meeting room. In his opening remarks, he left no doubt that he commanded the elite of the elite in law.

As we settled down, we gradually started asking questions about law enforcement, but, surprisingly, Special Agent In Charge James Bernazzani ushered us hush-hush into what the FBI call the War Room which is loaded with maps, graphs, demographics and a white board with black pens for writing during talks and demonstrations.

With no mention of 911, he observed through an undisguised series of statements how the FBI, the CIA and other federal agencies had fallen short of their prime purposes and potential by not sharing vital, timely information with each other at critical times.

Surveying the obvious, he mentioned that the FBI has every intent to interdict, arrest, convict and imprison federal felons, observing, however, that it does little good to jail all felons, only to see them replaced by younger criminals. Their roots must be eradicated.

The whole bent of his conversation focused on strategies to be used with grassroots groups and concerns such as family, education, witness programs for combating crime, and the funneling of interstate crimes into the federal sector where criminals cannot get out on bond and, therefore, are hardly a threat to witnesses who fear for their safety.

However, there is a precaution to be taken here. Taking a page from the handbook of Mafia operations, convicted felons have ordered hits on witnesses or the family members of witnesses from behind bars. Some kind of adjustment must be made for extra security.

And how do we know that a crime is federal? For one thing, as clearly demonstrated in a recent TV documentary, most of the drug trade is now interstate, even international, because gangs pushing the drugs, even some local gangs, are federated across states and some of them even with ties to international terrorists.

"Mr. Bernazzani," I observed, "the New Orleans police, some rabbis, and many of the Catholic and Protestant clergy are displaying deep bias, prejudice and ignorance in rejecting help from people like Dennis Muhammed and the Nation of Islam. The Nation of Islam is the world's best at fighting crime and drugs through community policing."

Smartly deflecting the brunt of my observation, the special agent returned immediately to his statements on how the FBI plans to synchronize and strategize with various federal agents, local police agents and the most vibrant individuals and groups in the community.

So, who are these individuals and who are these groups? Is there, or should there even be, a pecking order of establishing liaisons, community ties, and vehicles for planning sessions? It's the old proverbial "Where do we begin?" introductory question.

As always, another burning question hung in everybody's craw: Where is the funding for this, and through which entity or entities will the funding be channeled? I cautioned Special Agent Bernazzani about millions of dollars wasted in my neighborhood because there was no airtight way of screening or holding accountable the groups to be funded.

Therefore, why should we go from the unknown to the unknown? Why don't we do the logical thing and proceed from known and tried-and-true community resources? For instance, we have national winners such as Big Brother and Big Sister. These powerful, effective community groups have been guiding and counseling children for decades.

More home grown, New Orleans Each One Save One initiated by Sally Ann Roberts of TV channel 4 is a dynamic example of personal involvement with youth.

This successful program works on the premise that the good folks in a community outnumber the bad by far, and that one-on-one is the most effective way of interacting with the young.

MAD DADS (Men Against Destruction Defending Against Drugs and Social Disorder) was founded in Omaha in 1989 and now has 47 chapters in 12 cities. Given the stellar track record of MAD DADS, money to establish a local chapter would be well spent.

DAMMADD (Dads And Mad Moms Against Drug Dealers) is a grassroots anti-drug organization which pays rewards for tips about drug activity leading to arrest and conviction. They do presentations throughout the country to raise awareness, to empower and to show ways of interdicting and combating drug traffic in the community.

The biggest bang for the bucks from any federal or other funding is surely found in grassroots groups like these. With great track records and minimal waste of dollars, these and similar organizations fight on the front line against crime and drug trafficking.

It is not clear how much funding is needed for community policing programs, although some is certainly needed in cases like Gang Resistance Education and Training (G.R.E.A.T.) among the Boston programs. At any rate, next week we will explore the highly successful Boston Strategy to Prevent Youth Violence.

Reflections on Life

Scripture Says

By Ed Young

Jesus is here to help the tormented, mistreated & bruised

The Lord Jesus said that the spirit of the Lord was upon Him, to preach to the poor, to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, recovering sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised. Luke 4:18.

There are a surprising amount of people from every walk of life, who have been mistreated and bruised.

Most of the abused have for the most part kept silent. However, their silences did not go unnoticed with Jesus.

Unfortunately many have carried this terrible experience through life. They do not know how to release it from their inner most being.

It haunts them daily and without let up.

Nevertheless, there is hope in Jesus. Jesus said that He had come to give life, and give it abundantly. For He knows exactly what has tormented a person, and exactly the cure.

So a person that has been bruised will find the cure in the person of the Lord Jesus. One needs to call out to Him and tell Him you can't get rid of this deep rooted hurt. Know this, He can! He created you and He knows all about you. The healing will start as soon as He is called upon.

Dear reader, the Word of God is powerful. When read it will penetrate into the soul and bring peace and truth.

If you are bruised and hurting read the 23 Psalm and the 91 Psalm daily.

The Lord is your Shepherd, Hid under the wings of the Almighty.

Call upon Me and I will answer.

Word of the Week

By Dennis Prutow

Inner Combat

Most of us have a rather perverse notion of freedom. We think it means doing whatever we want to do.

All constraints are gone. Sorry.

That's not the liberty we celebrate on July fourth. It's not the freedom we should celebrate on the other days of the year either.

This perverted idea of independence, which justifies all sorts of deviant behavior, is actually a form of bondage. Listen to how one individual in the Bible puts it.

"I see a different law in the members of my body, waging war against the law of my mind and making me a prisoner of the law of sin which is in my members" (Romans 7:23).

Pagan Paul realizes he is a prisoner of all sorts of evil urges rising up within him.

He is not free at all. He therefore cries out in anguish, "Wretched man that I am! Who will set me free from the body of this death?" (Romans 7:24).

There is only one answer to this cry of distress. Jesus Christ.

We gain freedom, a new start in life, through faith in the death and resurrection of Jesus Christ, the Son of God.

Listen to pagan Paul once again. "The law of the Spirit of life in Christ Jesus has set you free from the law of sin and of death" (Romans 8:2). This freedom is liberty to serve God, to do good, to live with a clear conscience. This is true freedom.

Wednesday

4:45 p.m. and AMC
Movie: Two Mules for Sister Sara

In one of the more odd pairings in a Western, Clint Eastwood hooks up with Shirley MacLaine in this 1970 comedy endeavor directed by Don Siegel. Eastwood stars as Hogan, a wanderer who stumbles upon a nun (MacLaine) being held prisoner. He aids in her escape, but instead of walking away, he helps her complete her mission.

Thursday

7 a.m. and TBS
Movie: King Ralph

The entire immediate British royal family exits stage right in this 1991 comedy based on the Elinor Williams novel. In a desperate attempt to find a leader, genealogists discover a very remote link to Ralph Jones (John Goodman), a crass lounge singer from Las Vegas.

Friday

8:30 a.m. on AMC
Movie: The Quiet Man

An Irish-American prizefighter (John Wayne) with a guilty secret moves to his ancestral home and falls for a strong-willed redhead (Maureen O'Hara) in this 1952 drama. When her brother, who disapproves of their love, refuses to release her dowry, the boxer abandons his vow never to fight again. The film earned John Ford his fourth best director Oscar.

Saturday

11 a.m. and USA
Movie: Uncle Buck

A big-hearted but bumbling man (John Candy) agrees to look after his brother's children when the parents are called away on an emergency. As if looking after a house, two small tykes, their rebellious older sister and her endangered virginity weren't enough, he's also trying to make up with his girlfriend (Amy Madigan) and fend off the advances of a neighbor (Laurie Metcalf). Jean Louisa Kelly, Gaby Hoffman and Macaulay Culkin also star in this 1989 comedy.

3:25 p.m. on TBS

Movie: Three Wishes

Patrick Swayze takes a break from tough-guy roles to play Jack McCloud, an injured and apparently homeless man who is taken in by a compassionate woman (Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio). While he's recuperating, he slowly but surely bonds with her sons — especially Tom (Joseph Mazzello), who misses his MIA father. Seth Mumy and David Marshall Grant co-star in this 1995 drama directed by Martha Coolidge ("Lost in Yonkers").

TV Trivia

John Doman ("Mercury Rising") is a former Marine officer who served in Vietnam, then was an advertising exec before becoming an actor.

6 p.m. and FAM

Movie: Pizza My Heart

Eyal Podell and Shiri Appleby play a modern-day Romeo and Juliet in this new retelling of the star-crossed love story. The feuding families in this version are the Prestolans and the Montabellios, who own competing pizzerias in the same New Jersey town. Verona, naturally.

Badalucco ("The Practice") and Dan Hedaya ("The First Wives Club") play the families' patriarchs.

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Extreme Makeover: Home Edition

California Gov. Arnold Schwarzenegger pays a visit to the makeover recipients in "Leomiti-Higgins Family." The Leomitis are a family of six who took in the five Higgins children — their former neighbors — after their parents' deaths in 2004. The design team surprises them with not only a larger home, but one that's especially energy-efficient and environmentally friendly — hence the visit from the governor.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Desperate Housewives

Mike (James Denton) has an unexpected houseguest (guest star Heather Stephens) and must postpone his first official date with Susan (Teri Hatcher) in "Anything You Can Do." Needless to say, she's not pleased, especially since the visitor is female and hot. Lynette's (Felicity Huffman) dependence on the twins' medication worsens. Mr. Shaw (guest star Richard Roundtree) may have the solution to a major mystery.

8 p.m. on 4-CBS

Movie: Martin and Lewis

Before they went their separate ways, singer Dean Martin and comedian Jerry Lewis formed one of America's top entertainment duos. This TV movie, starring Jeremy Northam and Sean Hayes in the respective title roles, recalls their shared road from early success to turmoil generated by their vastly different personalities. Paula Cale co-stars as Martin's first wife.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Criminal Intent

The murder of a transplant recipient has Goren and Eames (Vincent D'Onofrio, Kathryn Erbe) investigating the donor, who made a habit of giving away money and, when feasible, his organs. They suspect he wanted some control over the lives of those he helped. Medical evidence, however, indicates that he had an associate with a violent streak and a grudge. Jamey Sheridan also stars in "Ex Stasis."

8 p.m. on 19-PBS

Movie: Whale Rider

Keisha Castle-Hughes, currently appearing in "Star Wars: Episode III — Revenge of the Sith," stars in this 2002 drama from New Zealand as a Maori girl, Pai, who aspires to lead her tribe. Her grandfather, Koro (Rawiri Paratene), the current chief, will have none of that; the leader must be male. But Pai watches in secret as Koro teaches the old traditions to the village boys, and you can probably guess the rest. Vicky Haughton also stars.

8 p.m. and DSC

Lost Mysteries of the Titanic

Director James Cameron, whose big-screen romance set aboard the Titanic won 11 Oscars, leads an expedition to the real thing in this two-hour special. With two subs, four mini-robots, state-of-the-art cameras and more, divers capture some of the most vivid images ever taken of the sunken liner.

Tuesday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

My Wife and Kids

Michael (Damon Wayans) really wants to make Jay's (Tisha Campbell-Martin) college graduation day a special one, but Murphy's Law is interfering. As one thing after another goes wrong, Jay suspects that Michael is causing all the problems on purpose because he was against her going to college. George O. Gore II and Jennifer Freeman also star in "Graduation Day."

7 p.m. on 4-CBS

NCIS

A Marine helicopter turns up in the middle of a crop circle with its pilot and co-pilot nowhere in sight in "Vanished." Gibbs (Mark Harmon) and the rest of the NCIS team find the co-pilot first, and as they continue searching for the pilot, they start hearing stories from the locals about strange lights. Abby (Pauley Perrette) is thinking aliens, but Gibbs discovers the truth isn't that far out there.

7 p.m. on 6-NBC

Average Joe: The Joes Strike Back

It's down to the final four in this new episode, and they're off on a romantic trip to the South Pacific island of Tahiti, where Anna will narrow the field to two after a series of private dates. A surprise awaits everyone on the way to the airport, however.

7 p.m. and BRAV

Situation: Comedy

Do you have a sitcom in you? In this new unscripted series, 10 aspiring television writers get a chance to pitch their series ideas to real sitcom producers, who will choose two to put together pilots. From there, the series follows the lucky two through casting, set design, rehearsal, shooting and post-production on their projects.

7:30 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

George Lopez

Some serious matters fuel the episode "George Searches for a Needle in a Haight-Stack." George and Vic (George Lopez, Emiliano Diaz) comb the Haight-Ashbury district for runaway Carmen (Masiela Lusha) — and find her tugging rap star Chingy (who guest stars as himself) as a groupie. Comedian Carrot Top also guest stars in dream sequences.

Kathy Hilton

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

House

House (Hugh Laurie) and his team try to pin down the source of a teenager's (guest star John Patrick Amedori) poisoning. They think they've found it, then another youth (guest star Ulysses Lee) with seemingly nothing in common with the other boy comes in with the same symptoms. At the clinic, House treats an 82-year-old woman (guest star Shirley Knight) with an overactive libido. Lisa Edelstein also stars in "Poison."

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

I Want to Be a Hilton

The remaining contestants — now on their own since the teams have been dissolved — get a taste of what it's like to be pursued by the press in this new episode. On their way to lunch with mentor Kathy Hilton at the famous Palm restaurant, they are descended upon by a pack of paparazzi. Later, photographers and publicists give them tips on dealing with the media, and they put that newfound knowledge to use at a surprise press conference.

8:30 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Rodney

Simultaneous household crises leave Rodney (Rodney Carrington) in desperate need of funds, but he can't bring himself to accept help from his father-in-law (guest star Mac Davis) in "Reacquisition Engineer." Trina (Jennifer Aspen) secretly accepts the offered money; when Rodney finds out, he tries to repay the loan by working for her car-selling dad as a repo man.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Special Victims Unit

In "Charisma," Benson and Stabler (Mariska Hargitay, Christopher Meloni) meet a 12-year-old expectant mother (guest star Holliston Coleman) whose pregnancy has developed complications. The girl is married to the child's father (guest star Jeff Kober), who turns out to be the leader of a cult with some scary secrets.

Eric (Topher Grace) looks for a way to make money for college after finding out his parents (Kurtwood Smith, Debra Jo Rupp) spent all the money they'd been saving for his education. His old guidance counselor suggests he become a teacher in a Third World country. Eric likes the idea, but his folks and Donna (Laura Prepon) don't react well. Chris Elliott guest stars in "2,000 Light Years From Home."

In "The Showdown," Summer (Rachel Bilson) confronts Reed (Marguerite Moreau) about her influence on Seth and Zach (Adam Brody, Michael Cassidy) — who get into a fight at the launch party. Marissa's (Mischa Barton) encounter with Trey (Logan Marshall-Green) causes problems with Ryan (Ben McKenzie). Sandy (Peter Gallagher) confronts Kristen (Kelly Rowan) about her drinking, and Caleb (Alan Dale) tells Julie (Melinda Clarke) he wants a divorce.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Producer David E. Kelley hopes to parlay the success he's had with scripted lawyer shows into a hit reality series featuring — you guessed it — lawyers. Twelve attorneys prepare real cases for trial before real judges and juries, and the outcomes are binding. Each week, trial attorney and legal analyst Roy Black, the "managing partner," decides which legal eagle flies home and who remains to continue competing for the $250,000 prize.

ER

Series regular Alex Kingston left after a long run on the medical drama, and the seeds were sown for the exit of her character — Dr. Elizabeth Corday — in "Fear." Corday is reprimanded by her superiors after performing a transplant on a patient who is HIV-positive.

Movie: U.S. Marshals

Chief Deputy U.S. Marshal Sam Gerard (Tommy Lee Jones) was the "bad guy" in "The Fugitive," the guy who was bound and determined to make Harrison Ford's character pay for a murder he didn't commit. In this one, he's unmistakably the good guy, who jumps into criminal-chasing mode after an accused killer (Wesley Snipes) escapes from the crashed plane they were both on. Robert Downey Jr., Joe Pantoliano and Kate Nelligan also star in the 1998 adventure.

Three of golf's top-five ranked players - Tiger Woods, Phil Mickelson and Retief Goosen - plus one of its more popular stars in John Daly, are featured in the "Lincoln Financial Battle at the Bridges" Monday, July 25, on ABC. The 18-hole, best-ball exhibition pits Woods and Daly against Mickelson and Goosen for a $1.7 million purse, $300,000 of which is marked for charity. Woods has competed in the six previous "battles" (he's 4-2).

Two members of music's TLC launch a nationwide search to find someone to join their group in "R U the Girl With T-Boz & Chilli," an unscripted UPN series premiering Wednesday, July 27. The death of Lisa "Left Eye" Lopes left TLC in need of someone new if the act was to continue, and over the course of nine weeks, the surviving singers put hopefuls through their paces. The ultimate winner will get to record a single with T-Boz & Chilli.

Arts abound on the Mississippi Gulf Coast

THE SEA COAST ECHO
The Mississippi Gulf Coast has long been recognized as a cultural center cultivating such notable artists as Walter Anderson, George Ohr, and Alice Moseley; today, the arts scene along the Coast continues to flourish.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast is a community which has always been a familiar scene to art lovers from around the globe with world-class exhibits, museums, and attractions. This unique heritage has recently been boosted by nearly $2 billion in destination development, which is simultaneously spurring growth in the arts.

A new Frank Gehry-designed Ohr-O'Keefe Museum of Art, <http://www.georgeohr.org/>, scheduled to open in July 2006, will continue this legacy, as well as serve as another arts incubator, similar to Shearwater Pottery, <http://www.walteranderson-museum.org/shaping.html>, in Ocean Springs. The new museum is a relatively small project for Gehry, whose legendary designs include the Guggenheim Museum in Bilbao, Spain and the Walt Disney Concert Hall in Los Angeles. The beachside museum complex will include a George Ohr pottery gallery, an African-American Gallery, Contemporary Art Gallery, educational pavilion, and the Pleasant Reed house, one of the last remaining homes built and owned by a former slave, which is already on-site and open to the public.

The Mississippi Gulf Coast is continuously recognized as a destination filled with cultural surprises. In fact, Biloxi is included in the latest edition of travel writer John Villani's The 100 Best Art Towns in America, <http://www.countrymanpress.com/titles/BestArt1.html>.

Below, find a sampling of major current and upcoming offerings that art lovers will definitely want to dip their brush into. For more information on these and other events, please visit www.gulfcoast.org/calendar.

Stony the Road - This traveling exhibit, which takes its name from James Weldon Johnson's song "Lift Every Voice and Sing," reviews the history of public school desegregation from before the 1954 Brown decision. On display at the Ohr-O'Keefe Museum of Art through August 12.

The Centennial Exhibition: On the Midway - This major exhibition based on George E. Ohr's journeys to various world's fairs during his lifetime (1857-1918). The highlight of this exhibition is the silver medal Ohr won at St. Louis Louisiana Purchase Exposition of 1904. Exhibition runs Summer 2004 to Summer 2006 at the Ohr-O'Keefe Museum of Art.

To Climb a Blade of Grass: Water Colors of Walter Anderson and photography of Stephen Kirkpatrick. Runs September 29 - January 8, 2006 at the Walter Anderson Museum of Art.

Tabletop Arenas - Tabletop Arenas is an exhibition of still-life painting from Zeuxis, an association of still life painters. Zeuxis is a nation-wide group of professional artists who since 1994 have worked on over two dozen exhibitions around the United States. Tabletop Arenas highlights paintings of the often overlooked subject of the exquisite beauty of everyday objects. Exhibition runs at the Ohr-O'Keefe Museum of Art July 22 - September 10.

Everything I See is New and Strange - This exhibit, which premiered at the Smithsonian Institution's Arts and Industries Building on Sept. 25, 2003, was on view to critical and public acclaim until Jan. 11, 2004 to over 250,000 people. After the excitement of the Smithsonian debut and the equally stunning success at the Dixon Galleries and the Ogden Museum of Southern Art, it is a pleasure to showcase this beautiful body of work here, where it was conceived. This was the largest solo exhibit ever to feature a Mississippi artist at the Smithsonian Institution. Exhibition in its entirety runs at the Walter Anderson Museum of Art June 2 - September 18.

True Colors: Meditations on the American Spirit - An exhibition of the response of 68 artists to the tragedy of 9/11 and the events that occurred during the following months. Artists include Robert Rauschenberg, Benny Andrews, Roy Lichtenstein, Nhat Tran, Faith Ringgold, Sally Mann, Vidal Blankenstein, and William Dunlap. Exhibit runs in the Lila Wallace Gallery, Ohr-O'Keefe Museum of Art, June 24 - August 14.

Ken Murphy Photography Exhibit - Exhibit includes beautiful photographs of the Mississippi Gulf Coast that conveys the uniqueness of the area, its exotic creatures, dreamy vegetation, awe-inspiring islands and spectacular events.

p.m. there is music, fun, and food.

Art Walk 2005 - Artists demonstrate their talents inside and outside small business and galleries. Painters, sculptors, musicians, and chefs join in the fun. September 3 in downtown Ocean Springs.

Movie: The Majestic

The often-maniac Jim Carrey continued his efforts to broaden his screen image in director Frank Darabont's ("The Green Mile") gentle 2001 drama about a screenwriter whose career is impacted by the 1950s Hollywood blacklist. Left amnesiac by a car crash, he then wanders into a town where the locals believe him to be a long-lost war hero. Laurie Holden ("The X-Files") and Martin Landau co-star.

Tuesday

7 a.m. on TBS

Movie: Free Willy

A youngster (Jason James Richter) befriends an aquarium-housed killer whale in director Simon Wincer's ("Lonesome Dove") 1993 family drama. When the whale fails to perform for audiences, his fate seems to be sealed — but the boy and his friends plan and stage a rescue mission. Lori Petty, Michael Madsen, Michael Ironside and Mykelti Williamson co-star.

Friday

6 p.m. and BRAV

Movie: Apollo 13

Tom Hanks stars as Cmdr. Jim Lovell in director Ron Howard's 1995 theatrical hit about the near-disastrous 1970 Apollo 13 mission. Headed for the moon, Lovell and his crew, Fred Haise and Jack Swigert (Bill Paxton, Kevin Bacon), experience an on-board explosion. On the ground, their colleagues scramble for a solution while the world holds its breath. Gary Sinise and Ed Harris also star. Jim Lovell appears in a cameo role as captain of USS Iwo Jima.

Saturday

8 a.m. on HALL

Movie: Call of the Wild

Rick Schroder stars as John Thornton in this 1993 intense tale of a man and his dog based on the Jack London novel. Setting off for Alaska and the lure of gold, John saves the life of Buck, a severely beaten dog. The two rely on each other for survival in harsh conditions. Gordon Tootoosis, Mia Sara, Richard Newman also stars.

7 p.m. on FAM

Movie: Madeline

Ludwig Bemelmans' charming illustrations lose almost nothing in the translation to live action in this 1998 adaptation of his children's books. Newcomer Hatty Jones plays the spunky French orphan who helps save her school from being sold and her next-door neighbor, the Spanish ambassador's son, from kidnappers.

TV Trivia

Gretchen Mol ("Finding Graceland") worked as a hat-check girl in a restaurant where her prospective agent noticed her and got her a job.

Gina Torres ("Firefly") attended New York's High School of Music and Art and is a mezzo-soprano trained in opera and jazz.

Dennis Farina ("Law & Order") was such a lousy shot when he was a Chicago police officer that his nickname was "The Great Wounder."

Mick Jagger ("Freejack") met guitarist Keith Richards when he was 4, and as teens, they again crossed paths on a train.

Jennifer MacDonald ("Orion's Key") graduated from high school early, enlisted in the Army and trained as a linguist in Arabic.

Supervolcano

Those geysers in Yellowstone National Park are more than natural curiosities; they are signs of volcanic activity. This docudrama speculates on what could happen if Yellowstone's volcano was to erupt with all its power. Scientists say it could be the worst natural disaster ever. The three-hour program re-creates such an eruption with computer graphics, and paints a terrifying picture of the aftermath.

7 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX

The Simpsons

Amy Poehler ("Saturday Night Live") provides the voice of Jenda, Bart's high-school honey, in a flash-forward provided by Professor Frink. The future finds Homer and Marge separated, Lisa dating Milhouse and Bart winning a scholarship earmarked for Lisa after saving Mr. Burns' life. The peek into the future softens Bart's heart toward his sister — which is exactly what the professor ordered — in "Future Drama."

7 p.m. and TBS

Movie: The Truman Show

In 1998, when this comedy-drama came out, there was no "Big Brother," no "Believing Bobby Brown." It's even eerier to watch now that its vision of the future seems to be coming true. A pleasantly toned down Jim Carrey stars as a man whose life is the mother of all reality shows. His hometown is a set, his loved ones are actors, and he hasn't a clue. One of his "co-stars," however, thinks it's time he found out, to the producers' chagrin.

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC

Desperate Housewives

"Guilty" is one of the more action-packed episodes of season one, with Paul (Mark Moses) taking action to avenge his wife's death, Lynette (Felicity Huffman) hitting bottom with her Ritalin dependency, and Susan (Teri Hatcher) making an incriminating discovery in Mike's (James Denton) house before getting stuck in his bathroom. Bree and Rex (Marcia Cross, Steven Culp) take a drastic step to protect their son (Shawn Pyfrom). Eva Longoria also stars.

8 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order: Criminal Intent

"Shibboleth" echoes the real-life "BTK" serial murder case from Kansas. Goren and Eames (Vincent D'Onofrio, Kathryn Erbe) believe a long-inactive murderer known as the "BBJ" killer is back at work when a woman is slain in a manner that resembles his earlier crimes. A suspect (guest star Paul Sparks) in the latest homicide is in custody, but Goren has his doubts that the man committed the previous ones.

8 p.m. on 19-PBS

Mystery!

Inspector Morse (John Thaw) gets an unforgettable lesson in motor vehicle operation in the two-hour mystery "Inspector Morse: Driven to Distraction." Cars figure prominently in his current case, which involves the stabbing deaths of two young women. Morse thinks he's got his man — an auto dealer — but Chief Superintendent Strange (James Groux) says there's not enough evidence against him. Kevin Whately and Mary Jo Randall also star.

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Crossing Jordan

The FBI believes it knows the motive for what first appears to be a random mass murder at a diner: the gunman's ties to a drug kingpin. Woody (Jerry O'Connell), however, suspects something different and turns to Jordan and Garrett (Jill Hennessy, Miguel Ferrer) for clues. Bug and Sydney (Ravi Kapoor, Eugene Byrd) inadvertently give a widow more than she expected when handing over her husband's belongings in "A Stranger Among Us."

9 p.m. and TNT

Wanted

The best of the best pursue the worst in this new crime drama series. The versatile Gary Cole stars as the leader of an elite team whose members come from a variety of agencies, including the "Drug Enforcement Agency," the FBI, the Los Angeles Police Department, and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms. Their mission: Track down L.A.'s 100 most wanted. Lee Tergesen ("Oz") and Rashida Jones ("Boston Public") also star.

Tuesday Best Bets

7 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
My Wife and Kids

Jr. (George O. Gore II) makes a cartoon about his family that wins a national competition and piques the interest of ABC executives. Michael (Damon Wayans) appoints himself Jr.'s agent. After a disastrous meeting with the network brass, he then takes it upon himself to fix things for his son. Jennifer Freeman and Andrew McFarlane also star in "Jr.'s Cartoon."

7 p.m. on 4-CBS
NCIS

A sailor in Washington, D.C., gets a strange package from Paraguay; it contains a pair of eyeballs. Gibbs (Mark Harmon) traces the mailing to a former naval intelligence agent now working in the South American country as a private contractor. He learns the man is involved in some shady dealings and sends Kate and Tony (Sasha Alexander, Michael Weatherly) down there to bring him in. David

McCallum also stars in "An Eye for an Eye."

7 p.m. on 54-UPN
One on One

Some job applicants pad their resumes; Breanna (Kyla Pratt) is padding something else in "Lost in the Headlights." She's hoping to land a gig at a restaurant that favors well-endowed waitresses. Flex (Flex Alexander) tries to find a new girlfriend for his boss (guest star Curtis Armstrong).

7:30 p.m. on 54-UPN
Eve

Latin singer and actor Carlos Ponce guest stars in "Above Average Joe" as a handsome, successful single guy who catches the eyes of Shelly and Rita (Eve, Ali Landry). Janie (Natalie Desselle-Reid) steps in when their competition for his attention threatens their friendship. J.T. (Jason George) tries practicing celibacy to attract a woman who'd rather wait.

8 p.m. on 8-FOX on 25-FOX
House

We loved Chi McBride as the tough but tender principal in "Boston Public." That he makes us hate him here is a testament to his acting skills. As Vogler, the House-hating hospital chairman, he orders House (Hugh Laurie) to fire one of his doctors. They're willing to take a pay cut so they can all stay, but this isn't about money. Medical mystery of the week: an obese 10-year-old girl who suffers a heart attack. Omar Epps also stars in "Heavy."

8 p.m. on 26-ABC on 13-ABC
CMA Music Festival: Country Music's Biggest Party

This two-hour special is the next best thing to being at the CMA festival. Better, actually, since it's free and everyone has a good seat. LeAnn Rimes, Rascal Flatts, Big & Rich, Dolly Parton and Alan Jackson are among the performers featured. It's not all music, though; you'll also hear "awww"-inspiring stories of deserving fans who are rewarded with personal attention from their idols.

Rumors about Peyton's (Hilarie Burton) sexual orientation come between her and Anna (Daniella Alonso) in "Don't Take Me for Granted." Nathan and Haley (James Lafferty, Bethany Joy Lenz) are also growing apart, while Nathan frets about Lucas' (Chad Michael Murray) refusal to have his heart checked. Keith (Craig Sheffer) says yes to Dan's (Paul Johansson) job offer.

Smallville

Another DC Comics character turns up in Smallville as The Flash (guest star Kyle Gallner) surprises Clark (Tom Welling) with his superhuman speed in "Run." The two of them may form an alliance that would force Clark to leave town. The Flash then steals a manuscript from Lex (Michael Rosenbaum) that could endanger Clark, given its Kryptonian markings.

8 p.m. on 19-PBS

American Masters

The record label that provided an early platform for such music icons as Elvis Presley and Johnny Cash is chronicled in "Good Rockin' Tonight: The Legacy of Sun Records." The impact of the company founded by Sam Phillips is almost incalculable, as suggested by the artists who render Sun classics here, including Paul McCartney, Bob Dylan, Eric Clapton, Sheryl Crow and Boyz II Men.

8 p.m. on 54-UPN

Veronica Mars

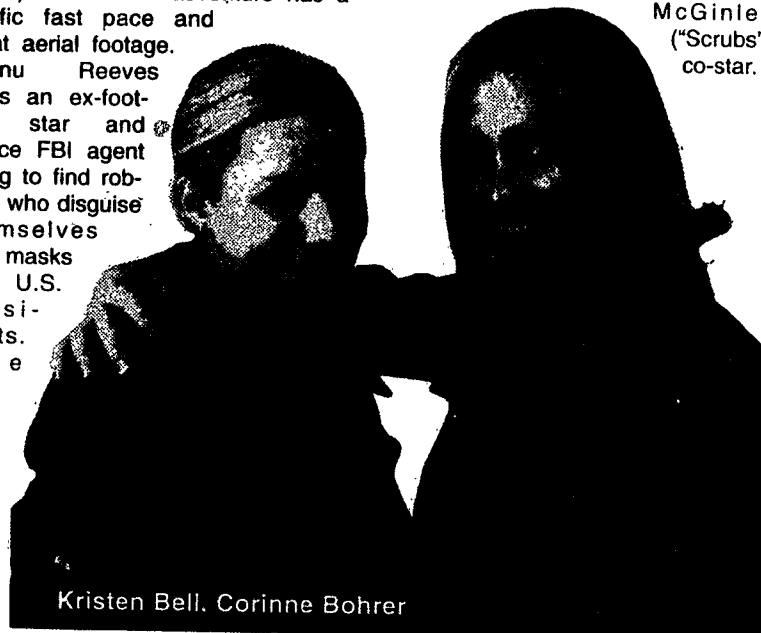

The main story line of this episode — Veronica's (Kristen Bell) poignant reunion with her alcoholic mother (Corinne Bohrer) — is almost eclipsed by the humorous subplot, in which Veronica goes under cover at a rival school to find Neptune High's stolen mascot. Enrico Colantoni and Percy Daggs III also star in "Betty and Veronica."

8 p.m. on TNN

Movie: Point Break

Director Kathryn Bigelow's "Blue Steel" 1991 action-adventure has a terrific fast pace and great aerial footage. Keanu Reeves plays an ex-football star and a novice FBI agent trying to find robbers who disguise themselves with masks of U.S. presidents. The search leads to a group of surfers guided by enigmatic Bodhi (Patrick Swayze), Gary Bussey, Lori Petty and John C. McGinley ("Scrubs") co-star.

The King of Queens

Doug (Kevin James) takes a heart attack to avoid confronting a co-worker of Carrie's (Leah Remini) whose name he's forgotten. Carrie hates it when he forgets names, but her wrath would have been easier to face than what comes next. Her boss insists Doug see a cardiologist, who subjects him to some unpleasant procedures. Spence's (Patton Oswalt) mom (guest star Anne Meara) flirts with Danny (Gary Valentine) in "Name Dropper."

9 p.m. on 6-NBC

Law & Order

Two police officers are killed while staging a sting on a black-market firearms operation in "Gunplay." Green (Jesse L. Martin) goes under cover to identify the murderers; he and Fontana (Dennis Farina) then trace the crimes to a Web site funded by a district attorney with a personal grudge against cops. He claims First Amendment rights as the prosecutors move in on him.

7:30 p.m. on 6-NBC

Will & Grace

No guest-star gimmick in "The Fabulous Baker Boy," just a darn funny plot. Karen (Megan Mullally) asks Will (Eric McCormack) to fire her pastry chef (Stuart Townsend), but Will finds that nothin' says lovin' like the guy with the oven. Grace (Debra Messing) tries to keep her sweetie (guest star Edward Burns) from finding out she didn't read the TV script that he gave her to pass on to Jack (Sean Hayes).

The O.C.

Caleb dies! George Lucas visits! It must be a sweeps episode! The filmmaker is in town to check out Seth and Zach's (Adam Brody, Michael Cassidy) graphic novel. In Focus

If the words and actions of chef Gordon Ramsay haven't been hot enough to get them out of the kitchen by now, the remaining finalists have only the championship to lose as the Fox series "Hell's Kitchen" airs its season finale Monday, Aug. 1. With Ramsay's penchant for culinary perfection, the winner will have to demonstrate the same level of commitment to cuisine. In fact, that person can take Ramsay's praise as the ultimate seal of approval.

Can friends maintain their ties when they're professional partners? Such is the eternal challenge for the quartet played by series creator Rob McElhenney and others in the sitcom "It's Always Sunny in Philadelphia," debuting Thursday, Aug. 4.
